Critique Sheet

(Self and Partner Critique)

STEP 1: Use the steps of the Feldman Critique Model to critique and evaluate YOUR OWN artwork, and set goals for worktime.

1. Describe your artwork. What do you see in your work so far? Be specific.
2. Analyze your artwork. What elements and principles are you using here? How are they being used?
3. Interpret your artwork. What is the mood you want people to see when they look at your work? Does that mood come across clearly? What is the message or story you are trying to tell? Is that message or story clear?
4. Judge your artwork. How is your work successful? What could you do or change to make it even stronger?

STEP 2: After analyzing my own artwork, a goal I have to improve my art during worktime today is:

- My artwork can be made stronger by _____.
- I will accomplish this by _____.
- I will know I've accomplished this when _____.

STEP 3: Use the steps of the Feldman Critique Model to critique and evaluate YOUR PARTNER'S work.

1. Describe the artwork. What do you see? Be as detailed as you can.
2. Analyze the artwork. What elements and principles are being used here? How are they being used here? Be specific!
3. Interpret the artwork. What is the mood? What is the message or story the artist is trying to tell? How do you know?
4. Judge the artwork. How is this piece successful? What suggestions could you offer to make the piece even stronger?

STEP 4: Use the sentence starters below to give verbal feedback to your partner. Use what you observed about their work by doing the Feldman Critique Model as evidence.

(Remember, specific feedback is important to helping each other grow and learn!)

Positive Description and Questions:

- I'm impressed by...
- I'm interested in...
- Tell me more about...
- How did you...
- Why did you make the choice to...
- What did you intend for... to represent?
- I interpreted...to represent...
- This art piece made me feel/think about...
- Another way to interpret this image is..

To Give Constructive Criticism:

- I would suggest...
- One thing I could change is...
- In my own work I prefer...
- One thing to make this piece stronger is...
- If you wanted your message to be clearer, I would recommend...
- Have you considered adding...
- In my opinion, your piece could be made stronger if you...

STEP 5: Based on the feedback you received from your partner, add to or revise your goals from Step 2 if needed.
